

Data Management

Our cruise and laboratory experimental data are generally first QC'd by our lab group.

Data used in various publications are available either in the publication or the publication supplemental data. We have recently submitted all of our cruise CTD and nutrient data into the BCO-DMO data base. We also make our data and the design of our Niskin-incubators available to people who reach out and ask us.